Message from Vicki

Vicki Saporta
President & CEO

Our work has never been more critical. We have seen aggressive, extreme attacks on abortion access throughout the United States in the last two years. Not only did the U.S. House of Representatives pass a nationwide ban on abortion care after 20 weeks in 2013, but numerous states enacted medically unnecessary restrictions that have forced clinics to close, denying women access to the abortion care they need.

To help combat these attacks, NAF expanded our Public Policy program. We've added new staff, and our Public Policy team has been on the ground in many states helping our members oppose unwarranted abortion restrictions.

Although abortion opponents have control of many state houses right now, they don't have control over our future. We know that the public doesn't support these extreme attacks on women's access to abortion care. We've seen activists mobilizing across the country, and we will continue to fight back.

I'd like to thank our committed Board of Directors, staff, members, and generous supporters for the many ways they contribute to NAF's success. Together we are helping to improve the lives of women every day by expanding their access to quality abortion care.

NAF's mission is to ensure safe, legal, and accessible abortion care, which promotes health and justice for women.

Advocating for Abortion Access

Abortion rights continue to be under attack at both the federal and state levels. In 2013, Texas passed a sweeping restriction, which forced many of the state's clinics to close, and across the country 70 other abortion restrictions were enacted.

To combat these legislative attacks, NAF expanded our Public Policy program.

Our Public Policy team was on the ground throughout the country helping members oppose abortion restrictions.

At the federal level, we also continued to oppose a nationwide 20-week ban in the House of Representatives. NAF once again provided the only witness to testify against this bill. Christy Zink, a member of our Patient Partnership who obtained an abortion after 20 weeks in DC, spoke about how this law would have affected her and her family.

Victory in Albuquerque!

On November 19, 2013, the voters of Albuquerque decided by a decisive margin against a city-wide 20-week abortion ban. NAF's State Policy Director was on the ground to provide direct support and assistance to our members and the Respect ABQ Women campaign to oppose this harmful ballot initiative.

This unique targeted strategy began in June when anti-choice groups submitted nearly 27,000 signatures to the City of Albuquerque to put an initiative that would ban abortion care after 20 weeks on the local ballot.

Leading up to the November vote, NAF staff on the ground and in Washington, DC participated in phone banking efforts to increase voter turnout. We also assisted members in story collection for campaign efforts.

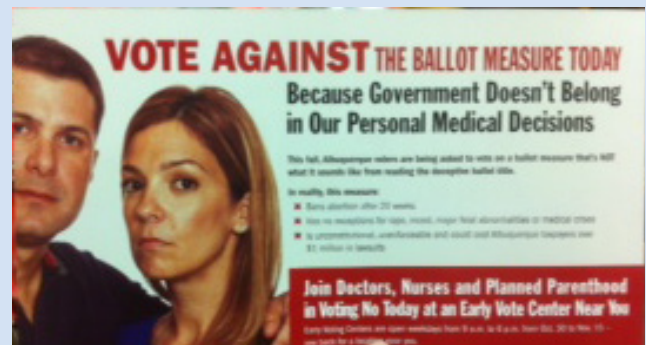

NAF's State Policy Director who spent many days canvassing stated "while there were many positive discussions with residents who already supported our position, some of the most inspiring encounters were with people who were less informed about the reasons why a 20-week ban would be detrimental to women's health."

In a huge victory, the initiative was soundly defeated by voters in Albuquerque, with more than 55% voting against the ban.

As one member emailed us that night, "... without your vision and support we would not have won. Period."

Security Support

NAF provided extensive security support and assistance to our members, the coalition on-the-ground, and federal, state, and local law enforcement officials. We convened two community law enforcement briefings in June and October, which were attended by clinic staff, Albuquerque police officers, representatives from the District Attorney's office, and national law enforcement officials.

Additionally, when anti-abortion extremists aggressively picketed at a physician's home, we supported the proposed residential picketing ordinance in Bernalillo County to protect abortion providers who were not covered under a similar Albuquerque ordinance. The ordinance passed with overwhelming support.

Expanding Access in Canada

We continued to work in Canada to highlight the barriers to access for women in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. In April 2014, Vicki had an op/ed published in The Telegraph-Journal (New Brunswick) about the unfair abortion policies in the province.

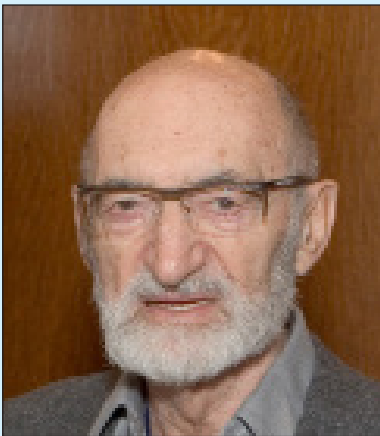

In May 2014, NAF staff traveled to Prince Edward Island to hold a press conference with a NAF member physician and the local coalition, to urge the provincial government to start providing abortion care on the Island.

We also continued our work to bring mifepristone to Canada. NAF Canada Board Chair Dr. Shelia Dunn co-wrote a column in the November 2013 Canadian Medical Association Journal that ignited a public debate about how Canada is far behind the rest of the world in not having the gold standard of care for medical abortion.

Through the Dr. Henry Morgentaler Patient Assistance Fund, we also helped women who would otherwise not have been able to access the abortion care that they needed.

Dr. Henry Morgentaler

In May 2013, we mourned the passing of long-time NAF member Dr. Henry Morgentaler. Dr. Morgentaler was a legend, a hero, and a national treasure in Canada and the United States.

Dr. Morgentaler defied the Canadian criminal code by founding the first free standing abortion clinic in Canada in Montreal in 1969. For the next 20 years, he challenged the law and even served prison time for providing women with safe abortion care. His work changed the legal landscape in Canada, and eventually led to the 1988 landmark Supreme Court of Canada decision that gave women the right to obtain abortion care.

Dr. Morgentaler's death was a tremendous loss to our community, and his life remains an inspiration to all of us who want to make the world a better place. No one has done more to protect the lives and health of women in Canada.

Working in Latin America

In 2013, we expanded our membership to include providers in Colombia and continued to increase our membership in Mexico City.

In 2014, our Medical Director Dr. Matt Reeves, led ultrasound and contraceptive trainings in Colombia and Ecuador.

We also held our first Congress in Bogotá, Colombia in November 2014. This Congress brought together more than 500 participants from 16 countries, including Argentina, Bolivia, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Mexico, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Peru, and Uruguay. Attendees were extremely enthusiastic and commented about how wonderful it was to exchange ideas and experiences with colleagues from all over the region, without the feeling of isolation or stigma.

Kensington Clinic

There is no other place where abortion providers feel as supported, affirmed, respected, and connected as they do at NAF meetings. Our conferences are also a place where health care professionals can obtain accredited continuing medical education (CME) credits in all aspects of abortion care.

In 2013, NAF held our Annual Meeting in New York, NY. We also replaced our Risk Management Seminar with regional workshops to better meet the needs of our members. Our first regional workshops were held in Dallas, TX; Atlanta, GA; and Toronto, ON, Canada. Our 2014 Annual Meeting was held in San Francisco, CA and our regional workshops in Cleveland, OH; Vancouver, BC, Canada; and Bogota, Colombia.
